Academic Year 2017-18

PRIVATE TUTORING

The tests are standardized. Our one-on-one tutoring is anything but.

At its core, the SAT is a reading test—even the two math sections are full of word problems and questions about experiment design. And while the ACT has a reputation as the more student-friendly college admissions test, it requires students to be superstars at time management. For fifteen years, I've studied the ins and outs of both the SAT and the ACT and I've developed innovative strategies and clear-cut tactics to help students read as effectively as possible and to help students manage time, reduce stress, and recall content. At College TestPlan, I'll customize these strategies and tactics to distinct learning styles so that students achieve—and ideally exceed—their target scores.

After an initial, complimentary Diagnostic SAT and/or Diagnostic ACT (or evaluation of previous scores), I will devise a customized TestPlan leading into a targeted test date that caters to a student's respective strengths, needs, schedule, and schools of interest. These TestPlans are highly focused yet flexible.

Our Signature SAT TestPlan consists of twelve 90-minute meetings (18 hours): four meetings (6 hours) for Reading, four meetings (6 hours) for Writing & Language, four meetings (6 hours) for Math.

Our Signature ACT TestPlan consists of twelve 90-minute meetings (18 hours): three meetings (4.5 hours) for English, three meetings (4.5 hours) for Math, three meetings (4.5 hours) for Reading, three meetings (4.5 hours) for Science.

Because the SAT and the ACT are now so closely aligned, prepping for one test indirectly prepares a student for the other. Once most students are fully prepared for either the SAT or the ACT, it typically takes no more than four to six meetings (6 to 9 hours) to fully prepare for the “other” test.

SEMI-PRIVATE TUTORING

Same as the above except in a semi-private environment of two, three, or more students. Ideal for siblings, friends, and teammates who share comparable baseline numbers. At College TestPlan, parents and/or students themselves initiate most semi-private tutoring.

SIGNATURE GROUP SERIES

Our six-week Signature Series is ideal for mid-range scoring students who thrive in small, interactive settings. Research shows that students master skills faster and retain them longer when they are actively involved in the learning process. Our Signature Series—capped at 10 students—is designed to engage. This interactive environment provides an opportunity to tackle tough questions outside the range of a standard SAT or ACT classroom curriculum.

ACTUAL CONDITIONS TESTING

Taking the SAT and the ACT under Actual Conditions is a great way to boost skills and to test new strategies and essential tactics. Our Actual Conditions testing provides students with the invaluable opportunity to hone pacing, to fine-tune analytical skills, and to strengthen strategic guessing. Although students can achieve some of these objectives by completing tests at home or online, taking the SAT or the ACT under Actual Conditions documents student performance without equivocation and familiarizes and desensitizes students to the “act” of taking standardized tests in a classroom setting.

- Actual Conditions ACT — Saturday, February 3 (9:00 AM to 12:30 PM)
- Actual Conditions SAT — Saturday, March 3 (9:00 AM to 12:30 PM)

Our four-week Essential PSAT & PreACT Primer is ideal for students who desire a comprehensive primer to the PSAT and to the PreACT. In addition to improving students' standardized test-taking skills, these sessions build confidence, comfort, and familiarity. And since the PSAT and the PreACT simulate the SAT and the ACT experience within a shorter test window, the preparation and subsequent results document both current achievement and projected future success. Our Essential PSAT & PreACT Primer is offered annually every fall.
